Railway Camps Reopened To Shelter 2,000 Refugees After Border Incident

On Tuesday afternoon the two railway camps, north and south of Fanling Station, were re-opened by the Government Medical Department to shelter some two thousand odd refugees who had been accommodated previously to the border incident in the Shumchun Refugee Camp.

On the following day a third camp was re-opened by Government at Gill's Cutting.

These camps now hold a total of 2,567 persons.

REFUGEES IN THE COLONY

The following list of refugees and destitutes accommodated in Government Camps, etc., in Urban and Rural Areas have been sent in for publication by the Medical Department. The figures are only up to Feb. 18 and do not include those who flocked into Hongkong after the bombing of Shumchun.

LONDON PRESS INDIGNANT AT JAPAN'S DEMANDS FOR MORE CONTROL IN S'HA

Over Hundred Casualties In Bombing

JAPANESE RAID ON PINGSHANHSU

SHUUKWAN, Feb. 23.—Flying in three flights, nine Japanese bombers dropped over one hundred bombs on Pingshanhsu, in Waiyang district, on the East River on Feb. 21. Over 100 persons were killed or wounded, and more than fifty houses were destroyed.

Japanese forces at Shengkong, about 30 miles north-east of Canton, launched another attack on Talkongling farther to the north-east on Feb. 20. Cantonese troops of the 12th Army Group vigorously repelled the attack.

The enemy left behind about 80 casualties. A previous infantry attack in the morning was repulsed.

The Chinese casualties were about 30 including injuries to a platoon commander and three non-commissioned officers, states a 12th Army Group communique.

PLANE CRASH IN JUNGLE

COLONY CHESS TOURNEY

Two games in the second round of the tournament for the Colony Chess Championship were commenced at the Gloucester Hotel yesterday evening, neither game being played to a finish.

At the adjournment, Dr. M. O. Prister held a slight positional advantage over Yu-lia, both players having the identical pieces. E. Zimmerman's position was weaker than R. S. Harrison's, the latter player also winning a slight advantage in exchanges that left him with a rook as against a bishop and a passed pawn.

MAGNIFICENT WORK OF SETTLEMENT POLICE

Japanese Maintain Own Terrorist Organizations

LONDON, FEBRUARY 23 (REUTER).—NEWSPAPER COMMENTS ALL REVEAL INDIGNATION AT THE JAPANESE PRETENSIONS FOR GREATER CONTROL IN THE INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT IN SHANGHAI, emphasizing that the Japanese themselves are primarily responsible for the murders by the breakdown of law and order in general in the absence of control of the "bad lands."

"The Times" says that the Japanese, alarmed and disconcerted at the death-rate between their hirelings who are naturally regarded as traitors by patriotic Chinese, are now making dire threats to the Shanghai Municipal Council which they accuse of incompetence and insincerity. The latter charge, "The Times" adds, is ironic seeing that the Japanese maintain and instigate within the International Settlement, their own organization of Chinese terrorists.

S.M.C. DENIAL

SHANGHAI, Feb. 23 (Reuter).—The Shanghai Municipal Council has officially denied the report, carried in the "Asahi Shimbun" in Tokyo yesterday that the Japanese request to the Council contained any reference to an increase of Japanese members of the Council or to fundamental reorganization of the Shanghai Municipal Police.

The paper goes on to say that it will be recalled that on more than one occasion officers of the Imperial Army both in uniform and in disguise had broken in the Settlement and committed acts of hooliganism.

It is greatly to the credit of the Shanghai Municipal authorities, who at no time have received co-operation of the Japanese, that the murders are sporadic and not wholesale.

If the Japanese took over control of the International Settlement, Shanghai would be in a state of chaos within a week.

MAGNIFICENT JOB

The "Manchester Guardian" says that the Municipal Council can in no way be blamed and their police, who are "tough and experienced as any in the world" together with the volunteer force, have done a magnificent job in preventing rioting and strife.

"Numbers of Japanese disguised as Chinese terrorists acting as provocative agents have been discovered and returned to headquarters with the polite request to keep out of the Settlement," says the paper.

"To send Japanese soldiers into the Settlement to act as police would certainly cause a serious crisis," the "Manchester Guardian" concludes.

The "Daily Telegraph" says that in the protest in connection with the Hongkong border bombing which the British Government may be expected to make, it is to be hoped that it will not be forgotten that more than 10,000 men, women and children from the fishing population of Hongkong have been reported killed and over 600 British-registered junks destroyed during the Japanese blockade.

When these facts are remembered, the paper adds, there seems to be an additional affront to the latest Japanese demands to exercise greater control even than they do at present over the other great settlement of western nations in Shanghai.

There will be no willing surrender of what remains of the International Settlement to conditions which Japan has allowed to grow up in the adjacent districts of Greater Shanghai.

RAP ON KNUCKLES

LONDON, Feb. 23 (T/Ocean).—"The Times" as well as the "Daily Telegraph" this morning devote one of their editorials to the bombing incident at Hongkong.

"The Times" declares that the bombs on Tuesday were obviously meant as a rap on England's knuckles by Japan which is dissatisfied with the trend of the British Far Eastern policy.

The "Daily Telegraph" declares that the bombs dropped over Hongkong territory cannot be explained by Japan as a blunder of the Japanese airmen.

Due Here On March 1

GUERRILLAS NEAR NANKING

CHUNGKING, Feb. 23 (Reuter).—Chinese guerrilla activities around Nanking are keeping the Japanese troops busy. Japanese reinforcements called in from Shanghai to relieve their troops in Nanking were intercepted by the Chinese on the way. They extricated themselves after hours of fighting.

GUERRILLAS ON HAINAN ISLAND

YINGTAK KWANGTUNG, Feb. 23 (Central).—The Chinese troops at Hainan Island are continuing their guerrilla warfare against the Japanese, making full use of the hilly terrain on the island.

Eleven Japanese warships are reported to have appeared off the coast of Hoppo, north of Pakhoi. They have frequently lowered down pinnacles to cruise around.

DEATH OF LORD BRABOURNE

CALCUTTA, Feb. 23 (Reuter).—The death has occurred of Lord Brabourne, G. C. I. E., Governor of Bengal since 1937. Aged 43, the late Lord Brabourne, who was educated at Wellington College and Woolwich was Parliamentary private secretary to Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary for India, for a short period.

Lord Brabourne was Governor of Bombay from 1933 to 1937. He recently underwent an abdominal operation.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A car, No. 2257, which was reported stolen from Statue Square by Mr. H. N. Howell, of Malcolm and Company, between 2.30 and 6.30 p.m. yesterday, was found in Benham Strand at 12.15 o'clock this morning.

MANILA FOOTBALL TOUR WAS DEFINITE SUCCESS

Visitors Lost All Games But Gain Sporting Reputation

(By "TAC")

FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF RESULTS THE MANILA FOOTBALL TEAM which has just completed a visit in the Colony, and which leaves to-morrow for home, cannot look back upon their tour in any self-congratulatory spirit. From every other viewpoint, however, the visit must be regarded by both hosts and guests as a complete success.

If they have lost all the three games in which they figured here, the Philippines tourists have, nevertheless, lost them in the spirit and with the grace that makes a defeat little short of a moral victory. On the field they have displayed sportsmanship of the highest order: not a single serious "incident" has marred their matches.

In the last game, in particular, they found themselves in the closing stages in that kind of a position that tests even the sunniest of temperaments. Three-one up shortly after the interval, an unlucky decision resulted in the Rest of the Colony scoring a goal from a free-kick, a goal that started their downward slide, a goal that was the first of three that turned a probable victory into an actual defeat.

In circumstances such as these tempers are apt to get frayed, rough tactics indulged in. It was not so with our late guests. Weary, almost run off their feet, they kept plugging away. It may have been obvious to them, as it was to the spectators, that they were a beaten side even before the winning goal was scored. But they never gave up, and the final whistle found one of them chasing the ball for all he was worth.

Such men are long remembered. Whether they win or they lose is secondary.

DISAPPOINTED FOLLOWERS

As actual exponents of the game the Manila side disappointed their local following—and anyone who thinks that it was a small following is wrong. More was expected of them, and though, as a whole, there were some very fine individual performances, exhibitions of ball control par excellence, clever dribbling, smart tactical moves that resulted in the "tying in knots" of opposition defenders, and the like, as a combination they lacked that consistently high standard which had been anticipated.

In one thing alone they lived up to expectations—speed. There is no doubt that they were faster than most of the local players. In their knowledge of the game they were also better equipped than I had expected.

Why then, was it that they came out of their matches against Hongkong sides with such a small amount of credit, always talking solely from the point of view of results? The reason has been explained.

THREATENING WEATHER AT RIFLE SHOOT

But Many People Out To Qualify For Handicaps

In spite of the somewhat threatening weather on Wednesday some 35 members of the S.R.(b) Class and forty five members of the S.R.(a) Class turned up at the mid-week shoot. The S.R.(b) had another opportunity at the long ranges but the fresh gusty wind and variable light especially at 800 yards had a decided effect on the scoring which was low.

Sgt. Cooper of the Middlesex won the Nett Spoon with 128 two points ahead of Condr. Hill, the latter maintaining a score of over 40 at each range.

Handicap Spoons went to C.S.M. Maslen and L/Sgt. Nunni both of the R.E.'s, the latter putting up a good performance off a 4 handicap.

Originally the S.R.(a) were to both with large handicaps took fire at 200, 300 and 500 yards but the remaining two handicap owing to the delay in the start it was only possible to complete the qualifying for a handicap, made a short range. P.O. Richards, who was in charge of the range, approximately won the Nett Spoon with an 84 closely followed by P.O. Richards.

It was gratifying to see, as predicted in these notes last week that the R.A.F. would soon start winning spoons. A.C.I. Gash and L.A.C. Berry both of the R.A.F. taking two of the handicap spoons. The latter's effort was extremely good considering the weather conditions to be only 3 points behind an experienced shot like P.O. Richards.

Immediately after the completion of the Spoon Shoot next Sunday morning which begins at 8.45 a.m. sharp, the Annual General Meeting will be held in the main lounge of the Club house and it is hoped that as many members as possible will attend.

The Third Annual report on the activities of the Association has been sent out to all members. Those who have not received their copy by Saturday morning should

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

A MOTHER WAS LEFT a widow fourteen years ago. She did not marry because of the three children under her care who needed education and all the attention she could give them. Several years ago she lost her position in the business world and has been living with her married children. She has no financial support and feels a burden to the already crowded households of her married son and daughter.

A MOTHER HOLDS a very high and distinctive place in the scheme of life. There is absolutely no reason why you should not depend upon your children for support in the sunset years. It is their duty and they should perform it gladly. Do not worry about your condition. Be happy and gay and make yourself useful about the household duties and the children in these homes. If you prefer, live in your own small quarters and let the two children contribute to your support. You are not too old to re-marry and enjoy the companionship of a man your age.

Keep in step with the fashions. Improve your mind through reading and study and seek the opportunity for another marriage. There are quite a few elderly men in this world looking for a happy, contented old age companionship.

IGNORANT REQUESTS information regarding telephone calls to young men of her acquaintance. Is it proper and correct for a girl to phone a man, and who writes the first letter the man or woman?

NEVER, NEVER TELEPHONE a man at his business office unless absolutely necessary, then make the conversation short. Furthermore, unless you have a definite message, or very informal invitation to extend you should not telephone a man at his residence. Let him do the searching, remember he is the hunter. Very few men enjoy social telephone conversations.

Regarding letter writing, you write the first letter, do not make it too long, and put nothing on paper you would not want the whole world to see. If your note or letter is not answered do not write again and leave sentiment out of the contents.

The same applies to recognition on the street, it is always the woman's place to bow or speak first when meeting a male acquaintance in public places.

A MALE EXPRESSES HIS ideas of women attired in slacks and especially on the streets of the Colony. He states that slacks make women look older. His idea of men wearing skirts on the street would be ridiculous and so are women when they wear pants. The parting remark is "If they realized how unattractive they look, as seen from a man's viewpoint, maybe they wouldn't wear them!"

TUT, TUT, HAVE YOU never heard of fashion? Is it possible you feel that men would look so much siller in skirts than they do in pants? And that you would really like them to risk such an exposure? Why brother, you are a traitor to your sex! I would never put any males to such an appalling test, even in the cause of having the women look sensible, attractive and, ah! younger. Beside, men adore silly women; it's the sensible, practical ones that have such a hard time getting worthwhile beaux.

A MOTHER WISHES TO know how she can break the father of two children from gambling away his pay check the first of every month. Frequently, he has lost the whole month's salary the day he receives it then they must draw on a very small saving account for the month's expenses.

FIRST OF ALL MAKE sure he is gambling with his money; maybe he is spending it on outside interests. Undoubtedly, he realizes what he is doing to you, your children and his home. Why not meet him in his office on pay day, go out to luncheon with him and in a very sweet manner suggest you take the check to the bank. He knows his failing and the injustice he is doing, therefore, under this circumstance he cannot be such a cad as to refuse you the money.

If he handles money for his employer, quietly investigate, if possible, regarding his accounts. Do not let this condition keep on. If necessary go to his employer secretly and ask him to mail you the pay check each month. This would be a deplorable state and a blow to his pride besides causing a bad impression on his employer, but you will have to take the chance, you cannot keep on in this condition.

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: I have been engaged to a man living and working in the south, for over one year. In his last letter to me he states that he is sending me the costs of my passage to go to the city and marry him on my arrival. Should I accept this money for the ticket, and should I take my Mother with me?—Undecided.

DEAR UNDECIDED: Frequently, nowadays, you find girls arriving or leaving Hongkong under such conditions. They are going to be married and their fiancé has sent them the travelling expenses.

However, unless absolutely necessary, I would advise you to pay for your own ticket and that of your mother's. Take her along with you if possible, otherwise, if you have family friends in the southern city, you could leave your parent here, but have her write them of your arrival, asking them to meet you and attend the ceremony.

One main reason I suggest you pay your own fare is that when you arrive in this city, you may decide that the man is not the one you should marry. Remember you have not seen him in the year and people change. If such were the case you could not possibly accept this money for your ticket.

(Each week in this column FAITH PRIOR answers questions of a personal nature submitted by readers of the "Daily Press.")

Rivelle has a big spring surprise for her clientele. It is a Sale. Immediately, you should be informed that it will only be for a few days. Winter frocks and suits must give way for spring and summer apparel; these garments have been greatly reduced, but also, you will find a few spring costumes in the marked-down selection.

New semi-tailored prints in spring colours, purple, cyclamen, rose and pink blended into fresh, buoyant patterns. The skirt treatment of these dresses comes in the front, gathers and pleats. Neck styles vary and dressmaking details in the bodices predominate.

Navy and black will be smart again this year. The trend is pure white, trim on dark navy reminding you of little girls' uniforms and, in this shop, you will find the style featured.

Afternoon and evening apparel is greatly reduced, be assured you will certainly find a bargain with plenty of value. A small selection of mid-season felt hats have been reduced to practically their cost prices. Pink-Mauve Or Purple

From your hairline to your neck bones the shades of cosmetics have definitely changed. No more copper, brown, tan or orange make-up colours, instead pinky pinks blended with violet, purple and pink, these light shades once you become accustomed to them will blend beautifully with a summer sun tan, blacks, navy, and the new lighter and spicier summer fabric colours.

Elizabeth Arden has worked out several colour charts for these new cosmetics and an inquiry at LANE CRAWFORD will provide you with all details.

The enamel on your finger and toe tops follows the new shades and gives a lighter and more dainty appearance to your hands and feet.

The most popular colour scheme for spring reads as follows: Cyclamen Day—Foundation (Special Rachel), Rouge (Cyclamen), Ardena powder (Mat Fonce), Japonica powder (Rose Rachel), Lipstick (Cyclamen), Cosmétique (Blue Black), Nail Enamel (Cyclamen). This colour chart blends to advantage with lime green, yellows, black, navies and various shades of the purple group.

It may take you a week or so to educate yourself to the completely new colour arrangement, but you will notice that the features are softer, and not as heavy; gentle is the expression for the coming fashion months and such cosmetics help to express this quality.

Hats in Fashions

A sailor, a turban, a bonnet, a pill-box, a cartwheel, a panache, all of these designs in the spring and summer millinery fashion group are ingenious and disarming. It is not the straw or fabric or exactly the design, it is what the hat artists have done with the various trimmings of veils, feathers, ribbons, and flowers.

Crowns are a little higher or do not exist and brims are correct at any level or height. And if you want to forget them, that's alright, too.

More linen will be used in hats this season. They are very trim, and tailored with a certain amount of stiffness. Straws are rougher, yet quite prim and proper, in simple styles.

But see for yourselves, a small selection of what you will wear on your sleek coiffures is on display in MAYOS specialty shop in the Arcade.

A new chapeau with a mid-season costume will be very smart for the races this coming week. And what female can attend these events without a new hat?

New Trends In Chinese Designs & Styling

Women of the fashion world have paid their compliments to the French women whose chic they admire and copy. Respect and admiration are given to the English women for their rich and lasting tweeds. The American women are admired for the cut of their styles and the smart display of their wardrobes.

And through all the fashions, particularly the materials and designs, used by these various nations, a Chinese influence can be noticed. Therefore, China can and must improve her place in the fashion centres and her contributions, stated Miss Liang Pao Tze, organizer and creator of the China Industrial Art Centre in the Colony.

Before attempting foreign education in Chinese fashions, we should commence with our own young ladies, believes Miss Liang. Accordingly, she passes on a few new ideas for a Chinese lady's wardrobe in the coming season.

Material design should be given more attention, not only by the manufacturers but by the consumer. The high collar on the present dresses will be a little lower, and various trims at the neck will replace the usual frogs. The bolero which is a great favourite with European dress designers flatter the Chinese gown and would be most useful for street wear in Hongkong. Bindings edging the long bolero are of contrasting shades to the dress and furnish a smart finish.

The long gown is universally smart and chic for evening wear, therefore, the Chinese women will cling to this style. However, sleeves will be dressier, drapes or

A new treatment of the Chinese frock for street and afternoon wear. The skirt is shortened and side pleats take the place of the usual slit on the side. This dress made from purple crepe has a cyclamen crepe trim at the high neck and outlining the long bolero jacket. By Miss Liang Pao Tze.

or purchaser. The southern Chinese girls are small, therefore, they should concentrate on a small design in the material of their garments. Diagonal stripes would be suitable, but floral patterns large and bold are definitely unbecoming. Solid shades, rich yet light when loosened, will be down in price and sale, we mean it. Two-piece knit suits, evening gowns, morning ensembles, afternoon frocks, all the midseason fashions are incorporated in this group of apparel. A selection of summer wash silks, cottons, sheers, linens in prints, stripes and floral print will be put in the sale, prices starting at $2.25 up.

Hats will be down in price and sale in suede, patent, kids and grain leathers will be sold at half price. Bargain hunters will find values in this shop to satisfy them and many wardrobe needs can be filled.

This sale will be the last before the new spring and summer merchandise arrives.

SLIM THIS SPRING

Away with the winter figure—you know, a lump here and a huge there, tell-tale marks from the Christmas holiday season. You simply cannot have such plumpness and wear the new exotic spring and summer styles.

What to do about it? Get yourself a new diet list of foods. Forget rich soups, fried foods, bread, butter, cakes and the proverbial cocktail or spirited drink.

Limit your imbibing days to three or two a week; the rest of the seven forget they exist. Wean your appetite from rich foods, in warmer days you do not need their energy. Diet is not dependent on will power, it is habit and all of us are creatures and slaves to this word.

Rich foods play havoc with your breath, disposition and form, also they are poison to your system. Any woman can develop a positive distaste for the foods which will be bad for her and this method is far wiser than periodical dieting followed by wanton ways. Try a diet of light broths, boiled meats, lamb, a bit of broiled steak chicken (not fried), vegetables (except for peas), lima beans or corn, salad, with lemon dressing, stewed fruits and if any other desert is vital (you should forget this item several days a week) a light custard.

Exercise should be included in your reduction of lumps here and there. However, do not overdo it. Too much physical work for your muscles will harden the fat tissues and then you will have hard work reducing yourself to a size.

Five minutes a day of stretching and pulling your muscles, skip those luscious rich foods, forget bread and butter existed, cut down your dividends to the liquor manufacturers and you will not have to let out the waist bands of last summer's dresses when the first of May rolls around this year.

GARY COOPER AS ADVENTURER

The screen, which lately has focused a majority of its bigger productions on biographical subjects, has seen many remarkable portraits of characters taken from the past.

Few of these historic personalities, however, enjoyed a life more significant and romantic than the Marco Polo so few people seem to know, whom Samuel Goldwyn has chosen as the hero of "The Adventures of Marco Polo," his rollicking adventurous romance which brings Gary Cooper to the Majestic Theatre.

Marco Polo's journey to the Thirteenth Century court of the great Kublai Khan in Kambalu, Peking, has as its object the extension of private commerce and the development of new trade opportunities for the Polo Brothers, Nicolo and Norma Shearer and Tyrone Power in "Marie Antoinette" which is showing at the Kings Theatre to-day.

MARIE ANTOINETTE

"Marie Antoinette" which opens to-day at the King's Theatre, is a triumph of the motion picture art. More than that, it is a triumph for Norma Shearer.

Magnificent in its pageantry, with eye-filling beauty of brilliant costumes and setting, flawlessly cast with such famed film names as Tyrone Power, John Barrymore, Anita Louise, Joseph Schildkraut, Gladys George and scores of others, these were secondary to Miss Shearer's absorbingly human interpretation of a woman's sometimes carefree, oftentimes desperate, seeking for happiness.

"Marie Antoinette" is thoroughly entertaining. Power is a handsome, gallant and convincing Count Axel de Fersen, the man who dared to love a Queen. There are moments of great drama and poignant tragedy, but also, delightful comedy. Much of the humour is provided by Barrymore, whose performance as the cynical, world-weary King Louis XV, is among his finest. Miss George's du Barry is lusty and amusing. Schildkraut, a recent thoroughly villainous Duke d'Orleans.

This is a picture that can be heartily recommended to those of every age who enjoy an exciting, adventurous motion picture, replete with thrills and romance.

4,000 WOMEN ASK FOR 12 POSTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (By Mail)—An extraordinary spectacle was presented at one of New York's drill halls to-day, when 4,000 women gathered to file applications for 12 positions offered by the city at a wage of $200 a year each as laboratory helpers for the Department of Health.

Some arrived 24 hours too soon, and in view of the severity of the weather the authorities arranged for their admission yesterday afternoon to the drill hall, where they spent the night curled up on benches or lying on stone floors.

Most of them had not bothered to bring any food, and restaurants did a roaring business in sending supplies of sandwiches and coffee.

During the waiting period New York's Health Commissioner made several visits to the scene to make sure that the women were being cared for as well as possible in the circumstances, while a special force of police was organized for their protection during the night. Several of the applicants, exhausted by their ordeal, fainted and were removed to hospital.

"UNPRECEDENTED" CASE

Man With Two Wives In Same House

As Gloucester Assizes recently before Mr. Justice Hawke, James Charles Andow, 33, labourer, of Mill House, Mill Lane, Warmley, Bristol, pleaded "guilty" to a charge of bigamy.

Mr. R. F. Lyne, for the prosecution, said that the circumstances were remarkable. Andow was married in September, 1925, and there were five children of that marriage. In September, 1936, his wife went to Bristol to live.

In March, 1937, he met Alice Kate, Alfred in Salisbury, and a month later went through a form of marriage with her. In May he went with Alfred to live at Kingswood, Bristol, and introduced her to his legal wife. He explained the circumstances to both women and they all went to live in the same house.

Andow had one child by Alfred, said Mr. Lyne. They lived together quite amicably until 1938, when the police discovered the bigamy.

Inspector E. J. Herbert, of Kingswood, said Andow lived in the house with Alfred and his legal wife occupied rooms in the house with her children.

UNEMPLOYED LABOURER

The Judge—What is this man? Inspector Herbert—A labourer, unemployed, receiving 45s. a week. He gives his legal wife 35s. and Miss Alfred has a small private income.

The Judge said it was an unprecedented case. He would think it over and decide what to do later in the day.

When the Judge recalled Andow to the dock he said the case had given him immense difficulty. "The extraordinary thing is how you all live together," he declared. "That is not done in this country."

"I have seen many bigamists, but you are the first I have seen who has continued to support his wife and children. They usually desert them. I think I can let you go. You will be sentenced to three days' imprisonment, which means you will be discharged now."

A SAIR TRAUCHE

Aye, freens, a gran' chiel was Rabbe—but a sair trauchle the same fowk. Did you ever hear the story of the Englishman who sat in the House for many years as M.P. for a Scottish division?

Soon after his retirement he got a letter asking for a subscription to a new Burns memorial. Like the war horses in the Bible he shouted, "Hal Hal!" and sat down joyfully to write an epistle in reply.

AT LAST!

The reply went like this:—For twenty years I have been compelled to worship your national idol, to catch cold walking bare-headed on January days in celebration of his anniversary, to pay numberless subscriptions to Burns clubs, dinners, and memorials, and to make speeches in praise of

Mrs. Oliver and her father photographed at the Fanling Race meeting recently. (Photo by Leica).

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

To make paper thin sandwich slices, use a very sharp knife and cut with a sawing motion. Cream the butter until soft, then place a dab on the bread and spread it with silver knife. Add filling and arrange sandwich fashion. Buttering both slices of bread helps prevent the filling from soaking in.

Cookies and cakes in which honey is used need about two weeks for ripening. They improve with age, provided, of course, they are stored in covered jars in a cool place. Regular fruit jars with rubber rings make good containers.

Apples stuffed with mince meat and baked make a delicious dessert. Wash, peel and core the apples and stuff them an inch from the top. Bake as usual. Lemon sauce goes well with this combination.

Wild rice expands about twice its bulk. Over-cooking will darken it as well as decrease the flavour. Wild rice combines nicely with creamed mushrooms, served plain or escalloped.

Use a fork for stirring rice while cooking. When done, rinse well in hot water. Cover pan with cloth and set in pan of hot water over low heat until serving time. One tablespoon of each cup rice added to the boiling water when cooking will help keep the rice white.

If you have an inner spring mattress handle it carefully to prevent any of the springs from loosening. Turn it quickly and lay it on a flat surface to air. Never hang it over the end of a bed as the springs in the centre could then easily get out of condition.

Too much water makes pie crust tough, and also makes it hard to roll out. Add water about a teaspoonful at a time and use as little flour as possible on rolling pin and board.

ICE GIRL ON £166 A DAY TRIP

The Normandie has left New York on the most luxurious cruise ever planned. There are 743 passengers. All are wealthy; most of them are millionaires. They have paid £200,000 in passage money.

When the ship reaches Nassau in the Bahamas, Sonja Henie, the skating film star, will come aboard with her party. She has booked a suite that cost £1,500.

Sonja has six guests, including her mother and brother and two servants. Their fares cost Sonja £1,800—and her £3,300 bill does not include special entertaining.

The Normandie is bound for South America and the West Indies and the £200,000 cruise will last only twenty-four days.

In that time gallons of champagne and expensive wines will be consumed; rare food cooked by the most famous chefs aboard will be served. For the number of millionaires is the largest that has ever filled a passenger list.

Sonja Henie can afford to eat, drink and make merry on the millionaire standard. At twenty-six, she has an income of £1,000 a week. Her recent "personal appearance" tour of U. S. A. brought her in £80,000.

During that tour her hosiery bill was £500. While she skates she wears silk tights that cost £7 a pair—and she changes five times a day.

The cruise will cost Sonja about £166 a day, which is not much more than she earns every day.

When planning your meals aim for a balance in soft and solid, strong and mild-flavoured and a variety in colours as well as watching out for nutrient values.

When placing serving dishes directly on the table have them within easy reach. Also put the silver needed for serving on the table at the right of the dish.

NEW BOOK DISCLOSES PRISON HORRORS

Almost unbelievable details of prison life as it is lived by most of the 6000 inmates of San Quentin Prison are revealed in a new book "Do Your Own Time."

The book published in England, has for its author Don Castle, an American writer, who "did a stretch" in the "big house" for forgetting to meet a $10 check which he gave a pup owner.

The book, which will soon have an American version, describes under slightly disguised names different types of prisoners in the famous California prison and makes the point that men are not reformed but hardened by the life within the prison.

Castle's book has an interesting glossary at the back, which lists many of the quaint words to be found in prison and underworld vocabularies. The phrase "Do Your Own Time" means simply that a prisoner fares best when he behaves himself, keeps his own counsel and gets out as soon as possible on the basis of good behaviour.

ANNUAL RACE MEETING

EXCELLENT SPORT SURE
FOR OPENING DAYDerby Sweep Record Sales:
Winner May Get $215,000

(By "Last Quarter")

ALL ROADS WILL LEAD TO HAPPY VALLEY TO-MORROW MORNING, WHEN THE HONGKONG JOCKEY CLUB COMMENCE THEIR 1939 SEASON with a 12-race programme for the opening day of the five days' annual racing carnival. The first race will start at 11.30 a.m.; the first saddling bell being rung at 11 a.m. There will be a tiffin interval after the 5th race, with the first race of the afternoon session starting at 3 p.m.

Given brilliant weather, the meeting should prove an unqualified success, and the public are assured of excellent and keen competition in the various events. The enclosure has been tastefully laid out and one cannot but comment on the excellent display of flowers.

Sales of the special $1 Cash Sweep on the Hongkong Derby has gone well beyond expectations and if the demand remains unabated it should reach the astounding figure of 500,000 or possibly more, by the time the race is actually run on Monday afternoon. Should this figure be attained, the first prize would be in the neighbourhood of $215,000. The through chances are also coming in for their share of support and some 2,000 numbers have been disposed of.

This last week has seen the arrival of further jockeys from the North, the last three to reach the Colony being Messrs. R. B. Miller, F. Marshall and J. Pote Hunt. My article will consist of a review of the events for the opening day of the meeting and comments as to the chances of the various contenders.

I would remind readers, however, that the possible starters in most of the events are on assumption only, as in many instances the ponies are entered for more than one race during the day, and it is difficult to obtain definite confirmation as to in which particular event they will be started.

FOOCHOW CUP—1½ MILES

Silkylight is sure to accept here and will not have much trouble in winning, as the distance is well suited to this brown champion and he is in excellent condition. King's Warden will also probably be sent out and should account for Wild Life.

I cannot visualize any other starter showing any opposition to Silkylight, especially so as Cameronian and Confusion Bay, if started to-morrow, will probably be saddled for a sprint event later in the day.

MAIDEN STAKES—6 FURLONGS

If Rose Elect is sent to the post in this event, which incidentally is the only race this chestnut has been entered for on the first day, one need look no further for the eventual winner. Not only do I consider this Bu Tong Sen candidate practically a certainty, but believe this mare will go very near breaking the record for the distance. Peaceful View has a fair chance as she is quite speedy and an ideal sprinter.

Lilliber is another certain starter that should secure a place. Jennifer and Avon are about the more prominent amongst the other possible starters. If Conquering Time is saddled here, this bay should have quite a following, and a very worthy one at that, as should Rose Elect be held over for the Blue Riband on Monday, the Maiden Stakes should be fought out between Conquering Time and Peaceful View.

SYDNEY MAIDENS

(FIRST SECTION)

This first outing of the new Australian subscription ponies over six furlongs should be a hard fought tussle between Chiltern, Ruby Star, Cocklerol and Devonian. These four ponies are all in good racing trim and the dominating factor will be the way they take off from the barrier. I believe Chiltern will just about get the better of Cocklerol and Ruby Star.

The indications are that Devonian will show up best over longer distance though Lady Northcote's nomination is not to be despised in this race. To those who are fond of selecting an outsider with big returns, I would suggest backing Murrumbidgee. This bay from the Gredka stable is a well formed pony and the one most likely to create an upset.

There is nothing exceptional amongst the other entries, excepting Serenade, who has been doing a couple of fast gallops lately and consequently is well thought of in certain quarters.

CHINA STAKES

Based on past performances this event should go either to Desert Chief or Bear Claw with good opposition furnished by Confusion Bay. These ponies, however, are not certain starters and the same remark applies to Happy Eve and Cameronian.

I will endeavour to gather further information so as to be able to intelligently give my final selections to-morrow morning. Oak Bay and Humdrum Eve should be near if all the first riders do not accept.

WONG NEI CHONG STAKES (FIRST SECTION)

Portrush is the logical one to follow and if he gets away with the field will be hard to beat over half a mile. Kut Cheung and Marksman are both dangerous but there is a distinct chance that these two ponies will be reserved for the Valley Stakes.

Tiny Tim and Gallant Marshal are fair ones to follow, with my preference for the former. Should Lambeth Bridge strip for this event with Mr. Needs up, he will need watching. Phoenix is a good bet, but I believe he will try his run against the better ones in the Valley Stakes.

WONG NEI CHONG STAKES (SECOND SECTION)

Of the three Wong Nei Chong Stakes, I think this one will prove to be the most open race of the lot. The entries from the "Time" stable have impressed me and whichever one is taken out by Mr. Pote Hunt, should be well backed and finish well up.

February Fourth (if started here) is the real danger and may prove to be the hardest one to beat. Strathannock is the one I recommend as an outsider. Lesser lights are Blaisdon, Gog, Patriotic Day and Radium Star.

SYDNEY MAIDENS

(SECOND SECTION)

I think Laffat That should be a good one to follow although I would feel much more confident if this mare had been given harder work during the past fortnight. Pumpernickel is a very fast pony and if ridden by a jockey who does not lag at the gate, should (Continued on Page 9)

RECORD DERBY
SWEEP PRIZESales Near Half Million Mark

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27.—Without a doubt the centre of public interest will be focused on the penultimate day of the month, to be more exact, on four o'clock that day, when the eighth race of the day, the Hongkong Derby, will be run.

A score or more ponies will strip for this race in connection with which the Hongkong Jockey Club is running a special dollar cash sweep. On them will be the hopes of over half a million people and the issue, whether by a nose, a head or a length, will bring a windfall to some lucky person or persons.

The sale of tickets is unlimited and inquiries at the offices of the Hongkong Jockey Club yesterday afternoon elicited the information that the 458,000 mark has been passed. When sales were resumed on Wednesday, the first day after the Chinese New Year holidays, the record figure of over 45,000 tickets were sold. Together with that of yesterday the aggregate fell just short of the 100,000 mark.

Sales will be continued till three o'clock on Monday (one hour before the start of the race) and if the unprecedented demand continues it is not beyond the bounds of possibility for sales to reach 700,000 in which case a first prize of well over $200,000 is assured, the richest cash sweep in the annals of the Colony.—(J.H.P.)

An announcement made yesterday by China Aviation Corporation, General Traffic Agents for Pan American Airways System, that the new giant Boeing Clipper, NC 18802, departed for Hongkong from its Treasure Island base at San Francisco on Feb. 22. San Francisco date, and is due to arrive in the Colony at 12.30 p.m. on March 1.

Inasmuch as the first trans-Pacific flight to Hongkong by the Boeing Clipper is strictly a shake-down flight carrying only mail and air express, and due to the fact that refuelling, mechanical servicing, and general attention by the ground staff will take up considerable time during the afternoon of its visit to Hongkong, C.N.A.C. will be able to issue a very limited number of invitations to inspect the plane.

However, they are anxious for the public to know that upon application at their offices prior to the arrival of subsequent Boeing Clippers which are being placed on the San Francisco-Hongkong run, they will be glad to make arrangements for the public to inspect the passenger accommodations.

Arrangements are being made through the Superintendent of Kai Tak Airport to handle the large crowds that are anticipated and to facilitate inspection of the aircraft by the invited official group, beginning at 2.30 p.m. two hours after the arrival of the plane.

A late report from San Francisco, yesterday, stated that Chief Pilot J. A. Tilton, who was to be Captain of the Boeing Clipper on her first flight to Hongkong is ill in a hospital in the American city, with appendicitis.

Captain W. A. Cluthe, of the Pacific Division will probably fill the vacancy created by Captain Tilton's illness.

HEROIN PILLS

Yip Wan, 20, of Tai Ping village, Po On was committed by Mr. E. H. Hensworth, at the Kowloon Court yesterday, to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions on a charge of possession of 1 1/5 ounces of heroin and 13,914 heroin pills. The heroin was seized when Revenue Officer J. L. Stephens led a raid on an unnumbered house in Pak Tin village.

K.R.A. ANNUAL REPORTMany Mainland
Problems

The annual report of the Kowloon Residents' Association, which has just been issued, sums up exhaustively the problems facing Kowloon in "one of the most trying periods which the Colony has experienced." The steps pursued by the Association to deal with such as affected the peninsula and the other manifold activities of the Association.

The report states, in part:—The first big question to be dealt with was that of undue increase in rentals, murmurs about which commenced towards the latter part of 1937.

Another important matter, which received the unremitting attention of the General Committee, was the location of the sites originally chosen by Government for the two Kowloon Refugee Camps.

BUS SERVICES

Two or three items under this head were taken up with The Kowloon Motor Bus Co., Ltd., and received as usual their courteous attention. The idea of issuing second class season tickets for workmen was not considered practicable by the Company: a "sectional stop" difficulty in Nathan Road was however successfully dealt with.

The need for better lighting in Nathan Road, which has been urged unceasingly by the Association for many years, is now being attended to by Government.

POSTAL MATTERS

Complaints regarding shortage of stamps and non-delivery of parcels were taken up personally by your President with the Postmaster General.

A complaint concerning a rickshaw stand in Kimberley Road received practical attention from the Police Department. The serious increase of crime in Kowloon and nuisances caused by street beggars and by small boys in certain car parks formed the subject of another letter to the Department, to which no reply has so far come to hand.

ANOTHER
IN COLONY

Hongkong is shortly to have another A.R.P. blackout. Seven new type aid raid sirens recently arrived from England, and will shortly be placed on selected buildings throughout the Colony for test.

When these tests are completed, the date of the next blackout, which will probably be on the most ambitious scale yet attempted, will be announced.

The new sirens are similar to those now in use in the metropolitan area in London. They have been selected after undergoing severe tests.

Wing Commander Steele-Perkins, A.R.P. Officer in Hongkong, announced yesterday afternoon that another six sirens of this type have been ordered from London.

ST. DAVID'S DAY

Wednesday next, March 1, is St. David's Day and Hongkong members of Cymdeithas Dewi Sant will celebrate their National Day at a dinner and dance at the Roof Garden of the Hongkong Hotel.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon the President (Mr. E. W. Davies) accompanied by members of the Society will lay a wreath at the foot of the Cenotaph.

The Hon. Secretary of St. David's Society requests all members who have not already done so to make dinner reservations as soon as possible.

It is understood that true to the traditions of the Land of Song, an excellent musical programme has been arranged and that the speeches will be commendably short.

WHAT IS FAIR AND REASONABLE

The first case to come before the Supreme Court for decision as to what is a fair and reasonable rent was heard by Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell in the Supreme Court yesterday when Chiu Do Jack, represented by Mr. W. M. Brown, claimed possession of the second floor of No. 1, Fuk Lo Tsun Road, Kowloon, $33 rent and mesne profits from Mr. G. Sequeria, who was represented by Mr. M. A. Silva.

Mr. Brown stated that the rent had already been paid and his client did not wish to evict defendant. The only question for the court to decide was a reasonable and fair rental, as defendant had refused to pay an increase from $18 to $23.

Plaintiff stated that he was at one time mortgagee of Nos. 1 and 3, Fuk Lo Tsun Road. He accepted the property in satisfaction of the mortgage, which was $8,000. However, other expenses involved in taking possession of the property amounted to another $3,500. The rent was originally $12 and this was raised to $15.

Plaintiff installed flush system in the two houses and defendant's rent was increased to $18 a year ago. Plaintiff intended to raise the rent by another $5.

His Lordship held that an increase of $2 was fair and reasonable and ordered that the tenancy be deemed to have continued at $20 per month as from January 1. No order as to costs was made.

POT CALLS THE KETTLE BLACK

TOKYO APPARENTLY takes the stand that her forces in China may commit any sort of vandalism with impunity but, if the Chinese retaliate by "bumping off" a few pro-Japanese traitors in Shanghai, the situation is such as to warrant the assumption of control of the International Settlement.

There is no indication of what Japan proposes to do with her puppets who enter the foreign concessions and slay those who refuse to accept the cloak of Japanese protection.

THE SITUATION in Shanghai is such as to warrant anxiety but Japan will be exposing herself to considerable danger should she make any attempt to change the status quo by the use of force, as she has threatened to if the Shanghai Municipal Police fail to arrest those who have been responsible for the killing of the puppets. Demands are to be presented to the International Settlement authorities for the prompt arrest of the perpetrators of the shootings; an increase in the number of Japanese members of the Municipal Council; and the fundamental reorganization of the International Settlement. If there is a recurrence of the shootings, the Japanese will consider that the Municipal Council is incapable of preserving peace and will take appropriate self-defence measures.

AS A FIRST STEP, the Municipal authorities, in conjunction with the British and Italian forces have spread a dragnet over the so-called "bad lands" area, outside the western district of the Settlement.

NO COUNTRY approves of or condones political assassinations or gangsterism. But in the present Sino-Japanese hostilities, which the Japanese themselves provoked, it is only to be expected that Chinese who are traitors to their country will be reached by methods which otherwise would be reprehensible. The majority of the shootings which have taken place have occurred in the extra-Settlement areas which are occupied by the Japanese, the maintenance of the peace and order for which is the business of the Japanese and not the Shanghai Municipal Police. The use of an international force, including British troops, to assist the Japanese in cleaning up the "bad lands" is, under the present circumstances, a step which is unwise. If the Japanese cannot keep order within the territory which they control, then the sooner they get out of China the better.

PARTICIPATION of the 2nd Battalion the East Surreys can only be justified if it were for the purpose of keeping a close watch on the activities of the Japanese, and their allies, the Italians and White Russian mercenaries enlisted in the Shanghai Volunteer Corps. Any attempt to involve the Settlement, and particularly the British troops, in guerrilla hunts around Shanghai should be resisted. Order is being adequately maintained in the International Settlement in the face of extreme provocation which the Japanese are carrying out against the local Chinese and their country and there is no

China Is In A Stronger Position To-day

LONDON, FEB. 23 (Reuter).—CHINA TOUCHED BOTTOM IN 1938, yet even now that tale can be told in a tone of hope and confidence, declared Mr. Quo Tai-chi, the Chinese Ambassador, speaking at the China Society dinner at Oxford to-night.

He added that already, 1939 finds China in a stronger position than during 1938, both in affairs at home and in relation to world affairs.

Though China's horrors and disasters these days were material and spectacular, yet they were not spiritual.

In the last year China had lost great cities, and the control of nearly all her seaboard. As against this, she was developing, indeed she had already effectively developed, an empire out of the south-western provinces that would be an ample and eminent domain for most nations.

Mr. Quo Tai-chi considered that awareness of the issues in East Asia, and a sense of inescapable international relationship in connection with it, was the most important and encouraging development of the past year.

An historic process was now sweeping all five continents, and had its clearest oppositions and all its opportunities set for in East Asia. What the Chinese knew in 1931, the whole world now realised in 1939.

TITANIC STRUGGLE

China and Japan were protagonists in a titanic struggle, whose hope and whose poison now ran through the veins of all nations. And Chinese unity in such a situation was more than ever positive and pervasive.

In a personal telegram to London, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had declared that a recent meeting of the Kuomintang Central Executive had been stimulated by the tendency manifested on the part of Britain, the United States and France to adopt a more positive policy.

Mr. Quo Tai-chi added that the very neighbourliness of Russia had been a steady and helpful factor during the conflict.

He referred to the developments in south-west China, and declared that they did not blink at the handicaps in bringing about modernisation so hurriedly. But the tenacity of his countrymen was proverbial, and his ingenuity was proverbial also. It was heartening at so much had been accomplished, while at the same time bringing new armies into being, and developing both strategy and supply for the guerilla attacks in the second phase of the Chinese national campaign of resistance.

HELP FOR CHINA

China naturally needed all the help that could be given. Only as China made progress so could the world be confident. If China should falter, so would the whole world get further out of its stride. This was an inescapable truth in present world politics. And for the prosperity of the world also.

When the time came to reorganise the resumption of free commerce among all nations, which was an undoubted panacea for the future, could anybody think of it being accomplished without an independent China carrying on her immortal trading? China was in the vanguard, both for the present, for the future, for world-wide political salvation, and for universal economic life.

BOYS COMMENDED

Two K.C.C. ball boys were commended by Mr. Q. A. A. MacLachlan at the Kowloon Court yesterday for the part they played in the arrest of a man named Chung Cheung, 27, who was charged with the larceny of a handbag and contents, valued at $50.50, the property of Mrs. A. Holthe, of No. 134, Austin Avenue.

It was stated in Court that Mrs. Holthe was engaged in a game of tennis, and defendant had attempted to run away with the bag which he had taken from where it was lying on the embankment near the tennis-court.

necessity whatsoever for any change in the municipal administration or for any increase of Japanese on the Council. The Powers, particularly Great Britain, is firmly opposed to any forcible alteration in the character of the International Settlement, as she indicated at the time of the Japanese demands last year, and it is not likely that she will be any less firm at the present moment, especially in view of experiences of the past year and the outrage at Shumchun and bombing within the New Territories.

Two married women, Wong Chai-mui, 45, and Chan Yu-yun, 52, charged with exercising control over prostitutes, were remanded in connection with the same case until March 12.

Sentence of two months' hard labour was imposed on Ko King-wan, unemployed, by Mr. E. A. D. Forrest at the Central Court yesterday for the theft of a seat cover from motor car No. 1457, the property of Mr. J. F. McKinnon.

Objections To Suggestions About "Mr. X"

ASIA HOTEL CASE CONCLUDES

Unemployed Sent To Prison

Remarking that he had given careful consideration to the case, Mr. E. A. D. Forrest, at the Central Police Court yesterday convicted Wong Kong, aged 24, unemployed, on the charge of living on the proceeds of prostitution and imposed sentence of four months' hard labour without the option of a fine.

The case had roused considerable public interest last week.

Central figure in the case was a girl, Helen Wong, aged 14, who was born in the United States of America, of an American woman. Her natural mother is dead, and her father is still living in New York.

Mr. E. H. Williams, Crown Counsel, conducted the prosecution, while Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios appeared for Wong Kong. Mr. M. A. da Silva held a watching brief on behalf of "Mr. X," principal witness in the case.

Wong Kong, in the witness-box yesterday, said that he was formerly employed at the Tai Lo Sin Hotel. On the evening of the day in question, he went to the Asia Hotel to look for Yip Kam-shing, a folk employed there, with a view to obtaining employment.

He found Yip was too busy to attend to him and referred him to see Tak Kow, who was also a folk on the first floor of the hotel. He did not see Tak Kow, however, and instead he saw Chan Fu-yun, third defendant, who asked him to enter to her room for a visit.

He heard a knock at the door and learned that someone had come down and asked for a girl. Mr. Remedios: You heard the evidence of the first witness, "Mr. X," who said he called at the room and asked for "10." Is that correct?—I was never on the first floor. I never left room 208 while I was there.

Mr. Williams: Have you ever seen the girl prior to that day?—No.

You knew she was practising as a prostitute?—Yes.

Have you seen this man "Mr. X" before?—No.

He cannot, therefore, have any grudge against you?—Not that I know of.

I put it to you that you went in the hotel to assist this girl Helen?—No.

MR. SILVA'S SUBMISSIONS
Mr. Silva, at the conclusion of the case, addressed the Court and said that during the cross-examination of "Mr. X," Mr. Remedios, for the defence, had made the suggestion that "Mr. X" was born of Eurasian parentage and the allegation that "Mr. X" brought the case because he wanted the girl for himself; also the question of relation between "Mr. X" and the girl.

The suggestions, Mr. Silva said, were made with an ulterior motive, and should not have been made by the solicitor for the defence unless under instructions or derived from evidence. Mr. Silva described the allegations as vexatious and improper and requested Mr. Remedios to withdraw the suggestions.

In reply, Mr. Remedios said that those were his instructions, and added, "I am not withdrawing."

Mr. Silva addressed the Court on the point, and Mr. Forrest recorded the application saying that "in the opinion of the Court, there was no reason to make these allegations at all."

Two married women, Wong Chai-mui, 45, and Chan Yu-yun, 52, charged with exercising control over prostitutes, were remanded in connection with the same case until March 12.

POLICY OF PEACE THROUGH STRENGTH

Premier's Eloquent Appeal For Co-Operation

LONDON, FEB. 23 (B.W.S.)—The Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, made an eloquent appeal for co-operation by the whole Empire, when he spoke last night at Blackburn on the policies being pursued by the Government.

A considerable part of his speech was devoted to domestic affairs, including unemployment and the position of the cotton industry, but the Premier also dealt with the Government's policy in relation to foreign affairs and defence.

"In these days of anxiety in international affairs," said Mr. Chamberlain, "when huge armaments are being piled upon every hand, we cannot avoid certain anxiety lest some incident, perhaps trifling in itself, should set in motion the machinery that would bring them into operation. We know that that dread event should come to pass there is none of us, or of those who are dearest to us, or who could count on escaping the consequences."

"In such conditions it seems to me that only the reckless, irresponsible or ignorant can desire that the Government of the day should follow any other policy than the one we have laid down for ourselves—a policy of peace through strength which will neglect no opportunity of breaking down suspicions and antagonisms and, at the same time, will build up, steadily and resolutely, with the help of our friends within and without, an Empire strength so formidable as to maintain our rights and liberties against any who might be rash enough to attack them."

The Premier cited figures of the growth of defence expenditure from about £114,000,000 annually in the first five years of the National Government to £580,000,000 in the coming financial year as evidence of the effective progress of rearmament. Ships, guns, aeroplanes and munitions were now pouring out of yards and factories in a stream which was constantly increasing in volume and the position to-day, even as compared with a few months ago, had been enormously strengthened.

BRITISH RESOURCES

He also thought these huge figures served to bring home the immensity of British financial resources which enabled the country, not only to find such colossal sums, but to contemplate their expenditure without any appreciable disturbance in confidence which was the basis of its financial credit.

"And when we reflect that what we are now considering is the effort of this country alone, without taking any account of the contribution that could be made, if the need arose, by the great dominions or by our allies and friends outside the British Empire, we may well feel, in the words of our own Shakespeare: 'Come three corners of the world in arms and we shall shock them.' Do not speak these words in any boastful, still less any aggressive, spirit. Our armaments threaten no one, nor have we any thought but of friendliness to any people in the world."

"My own most earnest desire in life is to see the establishment of peace and of confidence, that it can be preserved and I believe that as soon as a substantial measure of that confidence can be achieved, it will be possible to set about the task of disarmament by general agreement. No country embarks upon this ruinous form of expenditure for the fun of the thing. They do it because they are afraid of what may happen to them if they disarm. Remove that fear, and disarmament will follow automatically."

In connection with unemployment, the Prime Minister said that the anxiety about the international situation was playing a large part among the causes of the higher level it had reached.

SIGNIFICANT FACT

"I have often remarked that even slight improvement in trade generally does more to reduce unemployment than all the artificial remedies anyone has even thought of and it is a most significant fact that the easing of international tension, which made itself felt after the German Chancellor's speech at the end of last month, produced an instantaneous improvement in trade reports which come in to the Government from all parts of the country. That is a circumstance, which coupled with the prospect of a speedy

SOLUTION OF WORLD PROBLEMS

NOTED WRITER'S SUGGESTION

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (Reuter)—Great interest has been aroused in the United States by a new book by one of America's best-known foreign correspondents, Clarence Streit, stating the case for the union of world democracies.

In the book, "Union Now," which has just appeared here, and will shortly be published in England, the author suggests that a solution of world problems, that the democracies should unite under a common government for matters affecting foreign relations, while maintaining their own governments for internal affairs.

Whether to risk peace or freedom is the problem challenging posed in the book, which is the result of 20 years of pondering on cause and cure, of the "threatened breakdown in civilization."

The author concludes that an order of happiness can come only through the speedy union of the democracies. He points out that union has been an unexampled success wherever the democracies have tried it—in the United States where the union system was invented in 1787, among the Germans, French, and Italians in Switzerland, and among the Dutch and British in South Africa. Streit proposes that 15 democracies—the United States, Britain, France, Canada, the Netherlands, Belgium, Australia, Sweden, Switzerland, Denmark, Finland, Eire, Norway, and New Zealand—should now constitute the union, which he is of the opinion, would be so powerful that no other nation or group dare attack it. The union would have common citizenship, defence, forces, customs, money, and communication systems, but would guarantee each democracy the right to govern its home affairs, according to its customs.

The door would be left open for other States to join if they were of the type to do so. States which were republican, could remain so, as could those with monarchies.

Streit argues that such a union would have more than 60 per cent. control of nearly every war necessity. It could reduce its armaments, and still be stronger than any possible combination of aggressors, and could save its citizens billion of necessary taxes and customs duties.

SPAIN WILL HAVE ARMY OF TWO MILLION MEN

BERLIN, Feb. 23 (T/Ocean)—"Spain will soon have an army of two million admirably trained men at her disposal," declared Gen. Solchaga, the commander of the Navarrese division, to a representative of the paper "Angriff" in an interview published yesterday.

The General went on to say that this army would enable Spain to regain the rank to which she is entitled among the nations. The infantry formed the outstanding characteristic of the Spanish army.

In Nationalist Spain there are now, according to Gen. Solchaga, between 800,000 and 900,000 men under arms while Republicans had about 500,000 in the Valencia sector. These two armies would soon form a single force.

The Spanish army was amply equipped with most modern arms, the value of which had been thoroughly tested on both sides during the civil war.

COLONY HEALTH RETURNS

There were 30 deaths from tuberculosis out of a total number of 140 cases notified to the Health authorities for the week ending midnight on Feb. 19. In addition, there were 30 deaths from measles out of 63 cases, 15 deaths from cerebro-spinal fever out of 27 cases, 5 deaths from small-pox out of 7 cases, 4 deaths from enteric fever out of 13 cases, 3 deaths from diphtheria out of 8 cases, one death from chicken-pox out of 19 cases and one death from dysentery out of 9 cases.

Forty-five cases of tuberculosis were reported to the authorities on Feb. 22, in addition to thirteen cases of measles, six of chicken-pox, three of enteric fever, and two each of small-pox, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal fever and dysentery.

AIRPORT MOVEMENTS

According to reports from Chungking a regular twice weekly mail and passenger service will be inaugurated by the China National Aviation Corporation on February 28. The route to be flown and now under survey is from Chungking via Kunming (Yunnan) to Rangoon.

Imperial Airways in conjunction with the China National Aviation Corporation will establish a mail and passenger route from Rangoon (where they connect with Imperial Flying Boats) to Kunming. The first survey flight of Imperial Airways will leave Rangoon on March 1. The "Atlanta" type plane will be used during the survey and be under the control of Captain B. Hoare. The exact date for regular service by this company has not been announced.

Thursday afternoon the "Delta" plane of Imperial Airways arrived from Bangkok with mail from all ports and one passenger, Mr. A. Van Reekum.

The "Delta" left Kai Tak for Bangkok this morning with mail for all ports and two passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Von Slabitz who arrived from Shanghai this morning by the Yashiki Maru.

The Air France Ville de Saigon will leave Kai Tak, to-morrow (Saturday) morning for Hanoi at approximately 8.30.

The Philippine Clipper of Pan American Airways left Hong Kong this morning at 8.30 o'clock for Manila and San Francisco.

ANNUAL RACE MEETING

finish in one of the three positions. Janber will be right there, despite having been rested a few days on account of some leg ailment. This chestnut certainly moved well on Wednesday morning, though the time for the mile gallop was nothing sensational.

I liked the way Sydney Lad came home the same morning and believe this pony will finish quite close to the leaders. Rising Star has somewhat of a chance and so has "Victory Day," although personally I would prefer the latter in a longer event. This is the first leg of the Daily Double.

WONG NEI CHONG STAKES (THIRD SECTION)

A great fight is anticipated between Matador and Some Hope, in the probable absence of Magog and Millcay. Talkative will start here but this one-time well considered pony has fallen miserably to come up to expectations and does not appeal as a likely winner.

Willmilly and National Service are dangerous especially the latter. Wild Bull may prove to be the outsider in this sprint event and Charcoal is not to be neglected, as he has had several fine half mile try-outs to his credit. If Sports Venture starts here, this cream will definitely have a say at the finish.

VALLEY STAKES (S FURLONGS)

For the main event of the day, I fancy the chances of Orange Boven, Chatterbox and Millcay. My first choice is Orange Boven although either of the other two are just as likely to turn up first. Wild Bear went well enough on Wednesday to warrant consideration, while whichever entry from the "Time" stable is nominated, should not be out of the running.

Marksmen, if started, will be the means for punters collecting a fairly large dividend if he wins, but the dark horse is Celtic Star, which I am told is a very sound investment. Musketeer is too much of a puller to warrant the strong support he has been receiving, and I do not fancy his chances here except as a placed pony.

Other ponies that should run well are February Fourth, Green Bay, Heddon, Magog and Wilper.

TRIAL PLATE (1-1/4 MILES)

In all probability, Hyndford Bridge, Navylight and Conquering Time will clash in this semi-classic for griffins, and this race should prove to be one of the best of the day. I fancy strongly the first named for premier honours.

Navylight has been doing some good gallops recently but will need to watch the "Time" pony carefully. Eve of Harvest and Hectic View are next in order of merit, and for an outsider Lovely Star is worth considering as this pony did a very nice gallop on Wednesday last. Galveston Bay may be saddled for this event but may find the opposition too good.

CURRAGH HANDICAP (ONE MILE)

Tampa Bay, even with top weight, should just about carry off this event for old "C" class ponies, although Tyne is certain to put up a spirited challenge. Scenic View should also perform satisfactorily while Amberley and Bistre are not entirely out of it.

Rose Queen is handily weighted and if she decides to run, her chances are bright. It would be interesting to see how King's Lead will race after a long rest.

BENDIGO STAKES—ONE MILE

A Great Time galloped so convincingly last Wednesday that I really think she has an excellent chance, although the logical bet is Snowy River, after this team's wonderful display in the Championships last December.

Criffel is also looking well and striding out nicely. Both Viken Tor and Blandford should also be considered, while Murray River has a very outside chance.

My final selections will appear in to-morrow morning's issue.

FUNERAL OF MR. W. C. WESTON

The funeral of Mr. W. C. Weston took place yesterday at the Protestant Cemetery. The Rev. J. R. Higgs officiated, and among those present were Mr. R. Zindel, manager of Arnold's Trading Co., Mr. G. Buchanan, Mr. C. J. de Shipper, Mr. T. O. Wong, Mr. T. Ah Kwong, Mr. C. H. Liu, Mr. N. T. Chang, Mr. B. R. Kerr, representing the Yokohama friends, Mr. H. E. Phillips (Jensen & Co.), and Mrs. W. Orr. A number of wreaths were sent.

FINE ACTING BY MISS SHEARER

"Marie Antoinette" Premiere

SPLENDID FILM

It is little wonder that Norma Shearer received the Motion Picture Award for her picture, "Marie Antoinette," the premiere of which took place last night at the King's Theatre.

It was a really wonderful film and it was a pity that the opening night was not sufficiently advertised to warrant a better crowd: in fact, the house was a small one and did not do justice, either to the producers, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Co., or the actors who helped to make a picture par excellence.

The part taken by Miss Shearer was by no means an easy one: she appeared in practically every scene. Her vivaciousness, her appeal, her loving side, her emotional side were all shown to best advantage. After such a long absence from the screen, she will be received with a welcome warmer than ever.

Tyrone Power plays his part well, though in this picture he does not appear as often as usual and he was portrayed in a role which to him must have been exceedingly difficult.

Robert Morley, as the Dauphin and, later, as King Louis XVI, gave an excellent characterization of a weak-minded monarch but he acted in a manner which called forth much favourable comment.

The acting on the whole was very fine, the dresses were gorgeous and the pageantry of old France was shown to best advantage. The mob scenes were well done and the touching parting of husband and wife and of wife and children brought tears into the eyes of many a lady among the spectators.

"Marie Antoinette" is a picture well worth seeing and we strongly recommend that no filmgoer should miss it.—W.H.C.

NORMA SHEARER'S BEST PORTRAYAL

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23 (Reuter)—Throat infection, resulting in her being admitted to hospital, will prevent the film star, Norma Shearer, from attending a banquet to-night at which she was to receive the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, for the best performance of the year by her portrayal in "Marie Antoinette."

(The film "Marie Antoinette" opens at the King's Theatre to-day.)

"IMPRESSIONS OF SAIGON"

A talk on his "Impressions of Saigon" was given by Dr. Li Shun-pul, President of the Hongkong Y's Men's Club, at its weekly tiffin held in the St. Francis Hotel yesterday. Mr. S. B. Tan, first Vice-President, was in the Chair, and there was a fair attendance.

Dr. Li said he had gone to Saigon partly for his health, but also to see if he could gain connections with a view to establishing a link whereby funds could be obtained for the National Red Cross Society. His trip out from Hongkong was a good one and, after some preliminary difficulties with the port authorities he had gone further inland and had had an enjoyable time. He advised his listeners against going there in the rainy season, however, which was in summer, when it rained all the time, roads were ruined and everything was unpleasant.

FURTHER REMAND

An Indian watchman, Kaesar Singh, was further remanded by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest, at the Central Court yesterday, on a charge of inflicting grievous bodily harm to Ishar Singh, another watchman, at the junction of Gloucester Road and Luard Road on Saturday. Ishar Singh, who is said to have been struck by the defendant with a walking stick, is now in hospital and will not be discharged for some time.

FOURTH CRICKET TEST DRAWN: M.C.C. 203 FOR 4 AT CLOSE

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 22 (Reuter)—The Fourth Test between South Africa and the M.C.C. was left drawn to-day.

In reply to the M.C.C. first innings score of 215, the South Africans piled up 349 runs for 8 wickets and declared their innings closed. At close of play, the M.C.C. had scored 203 for 4 wickets.

The wicket appeared to be a little faster when the M.C.C. opened their second innings. The weather was still dull and overcast and the crowd had increased to 5,000.

The tourists batted for three and three quarter hours until tea time, sending in Leonard Hutton and Gibb as their opening batsmen.

Both batsmen played very cautiously and hoisted the half century after 81 minutes. Gordon was sending some good length deliveries, while Mitchell's spinners and very keen fielding kept runs down.

Hutton had scored 23 when Grievson, the wicket-keeper, who was standing well back, caught him off Gordon. The ball rose sharply.

The total was 91 at tea time. Gibb 41 and Paynter 15 at the wickets.

After tea, a crowd of 8,000 watched the resumption of play.

PAYNTER OUT
In the very first over, Paynter edged an out-swing from Newson into the hands of Grievson behind the stumps without any addition to the score.

Shortly afterwards, at 103, Gibb was magnificently caught by Grievson off Gordon. Gibb had batted for 144 minutes for his 45 in a stodgy innings, hitting four fours.

At 145 the fourth English wicket fell, Ames being bowled by a break-back from Gordon after scoring 14.

Walter Hammond, the English captain, and B. H. Valentine then took the score to 203 without being separated.

At close of play, Hammond had made 61, chiefly as the result of grand straight-driving, and Valentine has 25 not out.

Finance and Commerce

PINEAPPLE PLANTING AREA DECREASED IN MALAYA

More than 11,000 acres of land in Malaya which once produced pineapples, fell out of planting use last year, but in spite of this decline in plantation area, it is not anticipated that there will be any serious diminution of supplies.

The present area of 59,000 acres is considered sufficient to maintain the industry at about its present level.

There are now only 2,700 acres planted in Singapore, and experts in the Malayan pineapple industry believe that it is unlikely that this acreage will be extended owing to the growing demand for food crops, and that Singapore factories will soon depend entirely on Johore for their supplies of fruit.

DROP IN EXPORTS

A considerable drop in 1938 export figures as compared with 1937 is foreshadowed, taking into account the reduction already sustained in the exports for the first nine months of last year.

In that period the total exports of pineapples from Malaya amounted to 59,987 tons, or 1,937,012 cases, valued at $5,915,235, as compared with 68,773 or 2,222,451 cases, valued at $7,560,083, during the corresponding period of 1937.

There may be a decrease of 6,000 tons in the exports from Johore, which is the biggest centre of the canning industry.

Fruit supplies in Johore during October were only sufficient to permit only three out of six factories to work.

IMPORTANT MOVES

Two important movements in the Malayan pineapple world are the formation of a Central Board of Pineapple Packers, and an Association of Growers.

The main objects of the Central Board are to control production to meet the demands of the market, and to fix the price of the canned product at a level which will ensure a fair profit to growers and packers.

Agreement has been reached on a code of rules for the Association of Growers which, it is anticipated, will be able to safeguard the interests for the producers of the fruit.

It is expected that deliveries from Malaya will increase in the near future, as reports place London and Liverpool stocks at the lowest figure for several years.

FRUIT JUICE TRADE

Opportunities For Crown Colonies

In an article contributed to the latest issue of the Bulletin of the Imperial Institute by Dr. H. A. Tompkins (Assistant Agricultural Adviser to the Colonial Office), attention is called to the possibilities of a trade in natural fruit juices in the United Kingdom as soon as the public realise what is being done in this direction in other countries, particularly in the United States.

In the United Kingdom there is an appreciable trade in citrus squashes and cordials, but these are juices which have undergone some form of manufacturing or preservative treatment. In the United States of America, and to a lesser extent in certain European countries, there is a considerable trade in fruit juices which are preserved in such a way as to retain unaltered the characteristics of a fresh fruit juice.

IMPETUS TO TRADE

A great impetus has been given to this trade in the U.S.A. by the consumption of fresh fruit juice as part of a campaign for health on account of the vitamin contents. In consequence much attention has been devoted to the preservation of citrus juices by methods which will retain in unaltered form the vitamin contents.

This campaign has found no parallel in Britain so far. It is thought that if similar propaganda was undertaken by the medical profession in this country it would greatly stimulate a trade in fresh citrus fruit juices, and might be the means of extending considerably the consumption of citrus fruit or its equivalent in juice. Orange juices are imported from the United States, Spain, South Africa, and Jamaica. Lemon juices come from Italy, Sicily, and the U.S.A., and lime juices from the Gold Coast, and the West Indies.

There seems little doubt that the existing demand by the trade in this country is for raw juices rather than for concentrated juices. This is doubtless because the unconcentrated juices at present suit methods of manufacture. It, however, by freeing or other method of concentration the trade could obtain a concentrated juice offering technical or commercial advantages over the present raw juice they would doubtless resort to this material.

INCREASING INTEREST

That there is increasing interest in concentrated juices is shown by the fact that small quantities of juices concentrated by the vacuum process are already coming in. There also seems reason to believe that interest in fruit juices is being fostered by the milk bars, which are appearing in increasing numbers, at most of which there is a growing sale of fruit juices, especially in the summer.

Apart from the citrus fruit juices, in the Colonial Dependencies interest in this connection at present attaches particularly to the preservation of pineapple juice in Malaya and certain other Dependencies, and to passion fruit juice in Kenya.

SUEZ CANAL FIGURES

PARIS, Feb. 23 (T.Ocean)—Statistics for 1938, published by the Suez Canal Company, show a decline of traffic, chiefly owing to the drop of exports from European countries to China and Japan. The net-tonnage of 6,171 ships, which used the canal with 34,418,000 tons, is 2,073,000 or 5.7 per cent. less than in 1937, but still higher than the previous years.

The merchantmen tonnage exclusive of mail steamers was 1,295,000 tons or 7.7 per cent. less, while ships in ballast dropped by 362,000 or 6.5 per cent. The only increase was shown by mail steamers by 471,000 tons. The goods traffic showed a decrease by 3,997,000 tons, or 12.2 per cent. to 28,779,000.

TEA EXPORTS FROM HONGKONG

During last year 65,620,000 pounds of tea was exported from China through Hongkong, according to information from local business circles. The major portion of the product was exported to Soviet Russia and England.

HONGKONG LAND INVESTMENT CO., LTD.

The general statement of the affairs of the Hongkong Land Investment and Agency Co., Ltd., for the year ended December 31, 1938, and balance sheet as at that date has been issued.

Net profit for the year, before providing for the amortization of Crown Leases and the replacement of buildings by writing off depreciation, amounts to $1,148,495.01 which with $519,934.70 brought forward from last year has been credited to profit and loss appropriation account. An interim dividend of $1.25 a share absorbing $375,000.00 has already been paid and after writing off $29,400.00 from land, $214,873.18 from buildings and a special appropriation of $50,000 from Gloucester Hotel furnishings, there remains a balance of $999,158.53 which it is proposed to deal with as follows:—

To pay a final dividend of $1.25 a share .....	$375,000.00
To add to special repairs and renewals account .....	9,518.45
To transfer to general Reserve account .....	25,000.00
To carry forward unappropriated .....	588,638.08
	$999,158.53

It will be noted that the above proposed allocation for the year under review has been incorporated in the accounts.

The annual general meeting of shareholders of the company will be held at the offices of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., at noon on Tuesday, March 7.

LANCASHIRE CLOTH FOR CHINA

LONDON, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—Cloth contracts totalling 20,000,000 yards, and valued at between £500,000 and £750,000, are the subject of negotiations between Lancashire cotton interests and a leading Manchester firm of Far Eastern shippers and merchants acting on behalf of the Chinese Government.

An announcement to this effect in "The Times" this morning says "It is understood the order will be in drills and other similar fabrics for army purposes."

When the contracts are finally placed the total amount will actually be larger than the whole of Lancashire's cloth exports to China in the last four years.

TRADE MISSION FAILS

BUCHAREST, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—Herr Wohlthat, a German Ministry of Economics official, has returned to Berlin after a week of negotiations on trade questions.

He failed according to a highly placed Rumanian source, in a renewed attempt to secure wide concessions for prospecting and exploiting new oil areas in Rumania.

It is learned that the Nazi official will return to Bucharest shortly to continue the negotiations, which also embrace possible similar concessions for mining, principally for copper and bauxite.

ISSUE OF EXPORT PERMITS REFUSED

PEKING, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—The customs authorities in the North China ports refuse to issue export permits on or after March 10 for any goods unless exporters produce certificates showing that export exchange has been sold by the Japanese-controlled Federal Reserve Bank, according to a local Japanese report.

The report adds that a decree to this effect is being issued, and that all foreign currency collected by the Federal Reserve Bank will be deposited with the Yokohama Specie Bank.

The Federal Bank is only to buy exchange at 40 compared with the present ruling rate of slightly over eightpence.

SHIPBUILDING IN SCOTLAND

While the output from the Scottish shipyards during the past year reached the high total of 519,849 tons, it cannot but be expected that the figures for the present year will fall far short of that total, because of the small number of new contracts placed during 1938. Admiralty orders have recently been numerous, but the larger of these vessels will not probably be launched this year.

There was much activity in many of the yards throughout the past twelve months, but a large percentage of it was mainly completion work. The year will long be remembered because of the launching on the Clyde of the liner Queen Elizabeth by Her Majesty the Queen.

The River Clyde output is the highest since 1930, when the total was 529,844 tons, and it included almost all classes of vessels except actual battleships.

Messrs. John Brown and Company, Limited, Clydebank, head the list of Scottish yards with a total output of 100,080 tons; against 13,000 tons in 1937, while Messrs. Lithgow, Limited, Port Glasgow, come second with 67,607 tons, as against 81,446 tons in 1937, when they took leading place.

WAR TIME TRADE IN KIANGSI

NANCHANG, Feb. 23 (Central)—The Kiangsi Provincial Government has established a War-time Trade Department under the directorship of Mr. Yang Tso-an, Commissioner of Reconstruction.

The new department will undertake to market Kiangsi's special products and to import necessities and will co-operate with the Chekiang, Fukien, Kwangtung and other provincial authorities in the transportation and distribution of the special products of the respective provinces.

The Kiangsi provincial authorities recently appropriated $20,000 for the purchase of farming implements for the 5,000 refugees in Linchuan, southeast of Nanchang, to do reclamation work.

JAPANESE WANT SCRAP-IRON

THE SERVICES

ROYAL NAVY

DESTROYER REAR-ADMIRALS
 Now that both the Home Fleet and the Mediterranean Destroyer Flotillas are commanded by Rear-Admirals, a new Fleet Order directs that the following short titles should be used:—
 R.A. (D) H.P. and R.A. (D) Mediterranean.

DRILLSHIP RENAMED
 As the name Unicorn has been appropriated for the Fleet Air Arm supply and repair ship of the 1938 new construction programme, the old ship of that name employed as R.N.V.S. drillship at Dundee will in future be known as "Unicorn II."

SERVICE CONDITIONS
 In further decisions on some of the requests made at the Review of Service Conditions in 1938, the Admiralty announce that steps are being taken to provide better facilities in respect of lavatories, bathing, washing, and cooking in the dockyards.

It is not possible, however, to permit relatives and friends to enter the dockyards unescorted to visit ratings in ships during the watch on board, as this would entail much extra duty for police and the employment of female preventive officers.

To enable engine-room ratings to keep in touch with modern engineering developments, periodical lectures have been begun at home ports. A series of lectures and conducted course has also been arranged in Home Fleet ships and will be extended to all fleets.

A new type of mattress (Dunlopillo) is being introduced to provide a more comfortable type of bed in the Royal Marine divisions. The tropical shirt hitherto worn by chief petty officers is to be substituted for the tropical singlet for wear by all ratings in class
 III uniform (jacket and peaked cap), but ratings in class II uniform (those absent as seamen) will continue to wear the singlet.

After trial of jumpers fitted with zip fasteners in the Home Fleet and on the Mediterranean and East Indies Stations, this type of jumper has not been recommended and will therefore not be introduced.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

BICESTER STATION COMMAND
 Group-Captain R. M. Field has recently assumed command of the air station at Bicester, where two bomber squadrons are based, in succession to Wing-Commander C. J. B. Dearlove, who has been appointed for air staff duties with No. 1 (Bomber) Group, Abingdon.

Answering various questions in the House of Commons on Feb. 22, Mr.
 R. A. Butler declared that, according to information received by the British Government, the number of Italian troops stationed in Italian East Africa, inclusive of Italian Somaliland and Eritrea, have been increased since 1938 to 69,654.

FIGHT AGAINST MALARIA IN THE FAR EAST

More than a year has gone by since in the Far East a conflict burst out, the settlement of which has developed to the extent of a great war. Every day the news of the front in the Far East is cabled to all corners of the world; every day hundreds of people fall victims to the violent solution of this conflict between Japan and China.

Not to this disaster, however, do we want to pay attention in the columns of the "Malaria Monthly."

Rather do we want to dwell for a moment on the invisible opponent lying in wait for both fighting powers, Japanese as well as Chinese, in the middle of the tumult of war. That foe of both countries is the epidemic disease haunting the land and adds to the general destruction. Stealthier than the dangers from the air and the tren-

CANADIAN-U.S. PACIFIC DEFENCE

Strategic Roads To Connect Alaska And U.S.

The Canadian and United States general staffs, according to reports from Ottawa, are going to work out plans for a joint defence of the Pacific coast of the United States and Canada.

These plans envisage among other things the protection of the Canadian coast from the sea by Canadian forces are to confine the United States fleet while the themselves to protecting the coastal defences and strategic positions.

These plans also envisage the construction of strategic roads through Canada connecting the United States and Alaska.

NATIONAL FLAG FOR BURMA

Peacock As Emblem

The King has approved a national flag for Burma. Burma has hitherto used the Union flag, and the grant of a distinctive flag is a recognition of Burma's new status as a unit in the Empire.

The flag is a blue ensign bearing the emblem of the peacock in natural colours on a circular gold background. The personal flag of the Governor is the Union Flag bearing in its centre the distinctive peacock emblem on a gold ground encircled by a garland.

The emblem is a Burmese peacock in his pride, taken from the design which appeared on the silver coinage of King Mindon dated 1852.

The peacock is generally regarded as the national emblem of Burma and has been so recognised in the armorial bearings of Burma granted by the College of Arms. These are heraldically described as "Or, a peacock in his pride proper."

Arrangements will have to be made to obtain international recognition for the Burma flag, and the date on which it will be brought into official use will be notified.

Tunnel Plan For Channel

The project of digging a tunnel between Britain and France under the Channel, recently taken up again in France, has found a supporter in the "Daily Telegraph."

"It was in vain, up to the present, that the partisans of this project have emphasized that the French, formerly potential foes, are now intimate friends," writes the Conservative paper in an editorial.
 "It was equally in vain that they stressed that if the tunnel were to pierce it could, on the contrary be closed in no time. Old prejudices continue to dominate an epoch when political and military conditions have changed completely."

"One could discuss the effects which such a tunnel would have on the commercial interests of Britain, and one could ask whether the capital invested in the undertaking would bring returns."

"But the partisans of the project could, with equal right, reply that from the point of view of military affairs, the advantage of having a passage practically immune to submarines and planes or the transportation of food supplies, troops and munitions, would largely counterbalance possible economic losses."

ches is the danger of malaria searching for victims and finding them in great numbers.

Therefore the gifts of the U.S.A.,
 Denmark, and the Netherlands to China for fighting this malaria danger, gifts meant for buying quinine, deserve full attention and appreciation. The Netherlands Government, together with that of the Netherlands East Indies, put £ 50,000 at the disposal of China for buying quinine, and one can imagine the gratefulness expressed by the Chinese delegate, Dr. Wellington Koo, for this spontaneous readiness to help.

STREET COLLECTIONS

Holland sent its gift to the League of Nations, while Denmark sent its present straight to China.
 A great number of Chinese ladies organised street collections in New York, in support of China and in still another way did America cooperate spontaneously in this relief-action.

Three countries offered China quinine, the quinine which the country needs so badly in this struggle for the salvation and protection of its subjects. The fact that even Japan did not object to these gifts is proof of the fact that the malaria fight in the Far East is equally important to the Japanese and to the Chinese.

BRITISH LIGHTWEIGHT CONTEST

LONDON, Feb. 22 (Reuter).—Two of the hardest English lightweight boxers in years, Eric Boon, the Chatteris, blacksmith, and Arthur Danahar, of London, will be meeting for the British lightweight championship at the Harringay Arena to-morrow.

The clash has been long-awaited. All tickets have been sold and a record crowd of 15,500 for an indoor fight in Great Britain is expected.

Danahar has a typical upright stance and is a skilful boxer carrying a knockout punch. Boon, the titleholder, is essentially a fighter, relying on his heavy punch.

The champion will have a disadvantage in reach, but will be relying on boring tactics to nullify the effects of Danahar's longer reach.

The fight is being televised by two London cinemas on enlarged units, but no running commentary is being broadcast because the promoter refused to accept the Broadcasting Authorities' offer of 75 guineas.

FASTER AIR MAILS?

Acceleration of the Imperial Airways' service from London to Singapore depends entirely on how soon arrangements for night-flying can be completed in certain landing areas in India and other places along the route, according to the "Manila Tribune."

These arrangements are in the hands of the Singapore authorities, and Imperial Airways are doing everything they possibly can to speed up completion of the arrangements by co-operating with the local authorities.

Dutch airlines arrive in Singapore at least one day ahead of the Imperial flying-boat, and this is largely due to the more night-flying which they do. There are land planes, but for flying-boats, it is pointed out, special facilities must be provided for night flying.

So far as Malaya is concerned, every facility is provided there for night-flying to be done by Imperial Airways aircraft. Acceleration of the London-Singapore flying-boat service depends, therefore, on factors outside the control of authorities in Malaya.
